

Cover All Kids

An Act to Ensure Equitable Health Coverage for Children (HD.2153/SD. 778)

Lead Sponsors: Rep. Dave Rogers and Sen. Sal DiDomenico

Why is this legislation needed?

- Approximately 30,000 children and young adults in Massachusetts cannot access crucial health care only because of their immigration status. Dylan is one of these children.
- Safety net programs currently available to this population have limits on many services, such as mental health and dental care, prescription drugs and durable medical equipment (for example, wheelchairs). Other services are not covered at all, including home health care, eyeglasses, hearing aids, and most rehabilitation and habilitation treatment (for example, ABA therapy).
- Medicaid coverage in childhood has been shown to improve lifelong health, success in school and earning potential.
- Inadequate coverage can lead to delayed care, worsening or new health conditions and use of more expensive care through emergency departments or longer hospital stays, including in adulthood.
- Twelve states have expanded or will soon implement comprehensive coverage for income-eligible children regardless of immigration status: California, Washington, Oregon, Illinois, New York, Washington D.C., New Jersey, Connecticut, Vermont, Rhode Island, Maine and Colorado. Massachusetts and New Hampshire are the only remaining New England states restricting Medicaid coverage for immigrant children.

Why is this a health equity issue?

- MassHealth covers many of the state's most underserved residents, but the program leaves out certain immigrants, even if they meet all other eligibility criteria.
- Inadequate coverage puts additional stress on immigrant families, who already often experience health disparities and barriers to linguistically and culturally responsive care and have been disproportionately impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Lack of access to comprehensive coverage and care is especially harmful for children with disabilities, complex health needs or chronic conditions.

What does this legislation do?

- This legislation would expand full MassHealth coverage to all young people under age 21 who are otherwise eligible, regardless of immigration status.
